Bio: Lillian Scott Snodgrass was born 8 Aug 1898, at Robbinsdale, Minnesota. She was the daughter of Thomas and Mary Harriet (Prestidge) Scott. She moved with her family to the Rockford, Minnesota area, about 1903.

Lillian and her husband Earl, lived on the shores of Lake Charlotte for many years. They both loved to fish. I can remember stopping in on many occasions and having the most delicious meals of fresh fish and homemade bread. They were the best fish meals I have ever eaten anywhere. Lillian, like her mother Hattie, was a hard worker. She had huge gardens, and berry patches, from which she provided food for the family year around.

[[Charlou Dolan: I am not sure Caroline and Rosa belong with Albert and Mnarvie; they were originally two separate households, and then the dwelling and family number for Caraline were crossed out and her relationship was changed from "wife" to "mother-in-law", and Rosa's was changed from "daughter" to "sister-in-law." With the age and places of birth for Mnarvie being totally wrong for her to be a daughter of Caroline, I think the census enumerator messed up when he converted them into one family.]

Guide to the Draper Manuscripts (Josephine L. Harper; The State Historical Society of Wisconsin; 1983)

[The Lyman Copeland Draper collection of documents and manuscripts are in the State Historical Society of Wisconsin, but they have also been microfilmed, and the LDS Church in Salt Lake City has a copy, as do several other major libraries around the country. This is not an every-name index, but rather a finding aid. Note also, that many of these films are very hard to read.]

Appendix I: Revolutionary War Pension Applicants [this is mainly just material from the National Archives]

James Snodgrass, 32 S, 3 DD, 8 DD, 17 DD.

Appendix II: Additional Personal Data [personal & biographical references of many varieties]
William Snodgrass, 32 S, 3 DD, 16 DD, 3 ZZ; questions to, 15 DD.

[Here are the names of the above collections.]

Series S = Draper's Notes. 33 volumes. Notes, primarily of interviews, made by Draper from 1841 to 1868 during his intensive search for historical materials. As early as 1841 Draper began to converse with western pioneers and their descendants and to record their oral statements and replies to his questions in notebooks, many of which compose this series.

-- 32 S = Three notebooks, "J," "K," and "L." Interviews, county records, family papers, and publications gathered by Draper during 1844, including records of Botetourt, Fincastle, & Montgomery counties, Virginia, and Sullivan & Washington counties, Tennessee. There are indexes prepared by Draper for each notebook.

Series DD = King's Mountain Papers. [There is a published calendar for this series, which is a more complete index, but still not an every-name index. It is available in most libraries having a strong history or genealogy section.]

-- 3 DD = Pension papers, early certificates, and related papers. Mainly are duplicated or summarized in 8 DD.

-- 8 DD = Arthur and William Campbell papers, who were prominent political and military leaders in the area of southwestern Virginia which became Washington County.

-- 15 DD = Many miscellaneous notes and incoming letters to Draper during his King's Mountain research.

-- 16 DD = Original manuscripts, 1753-1833, with a few pieces of later correspondence, 1842-1846. Mostly Shelby & Campbell families.

-- 17 DD = Mainly publications, pamphlets, newspaper clippings & periodical clippings dealing with King's Mountain.

Series ZZ = Virginia Papers.

-- 3 ZZ = A volume composed of four groups of manuscripts primarily of eighteenth-century dates:

- 1) Correspondence 1776-1780 on the defense of Greenbrier county.
- 2) Letter by William McClanahan plus other materials relating to the battle with the Cherokee at Long Island of the Holston (1776)
- 3) Robert Dinwiddie papers.
- 4) Memoirs of Samuel L. Campbell on the Indian wars in the West, 1754-1779.
